

Christina Aguilera

Christina Aguilera recently launched her new line of perfume "Inspire" – where she showed up in the 2008 MTV VMA press conference. She'll be singing her former hit chart song "Genie in a Bottle" as part of the 25th annual VMA performance.

I've been to her concerts and I'm pretty amazed by what she has to offer.

This would also be her first appearance in TV since giving birth to Max earlier this year.
